13 July 1949

Dear Admiral Hillenkoetter:

The Seventh Bureau of Yards and Docks Seminar, covering a two weeks program of instruction and information for 100 selected reserve officers of the Civil Engineer Corps is to be held at the Bureau of Yards and Docks in Washington, D. C., from the 7th to the 20th of September 1949. Likewise the Fourth Seminar of similar nature is to be held at Fort Huachuca, California from the 7th to the 20th of November 1949. These Seminars are considered to be the outstanding training duty sessions for the Civil Engineer Corps Reserve Officers.

At the Sixth Seminar in Washington, D. C., it was our great pleasure to have [] lecture to the group on two occasions. Everyone hearing him was much impressed by his remarks, which were timely and greatly appreciated.

We would again like to have [] give a similar lecture on the subject of "World Conditions and Intelligence" at the Seminar at the Bureau in Washington from 0900 to 0945 on Monday, 19 September, followed by a period of discussion, questions and answers, from 1000 to 1045. We would like to have him deliver a similar talk at the Seminar being held at the Naval School - Civil Engineer Corps Officers at Fort Huachuca, California from 1000 to 1045 on Friday, 18 November.

Your approval to these requests will be greatly appreciated.

With kindest regards, I am,

Sincerely yours,

s/ J. J. Manning
